LETTER WRITING WEEK

International Letter Writing Week will be observed during the week October 6 to 12, Postmaster Richard Wingfield announced today.

Commenting on the establishment of International Letter Writing Week, Mr. Wingfield pointed out that each year since 1938 the Post Office Department has joined in the observance of National Letter Writing Week — an annual event celebrated to emphasize the meaning and value of letter writing as a symbol of American freedom.

"As a result of its success," the Postmaster stated, "National Letter Writing Week will be conducted on an international basis this year for the first time. International Letter Writing Week is based on the idea that written communication between people in all the countries of the world will contribute toward the building of a lasting peace.

"I am sure we are all aware that a personal letter is, next to an actual visit, the most intimate means each of us has to communicate with our fellow human beings. Letters between peoples of different nations are a sure method of establishing friendly relationships and understandings. The problems of freedom loving peoples will be more quickly solved if they are better understood.

"I urge all citizens of Appomattox to join in this first celebration of International Letter Writing Week and at the same time write that overdue letter to friends and relatives in America.

Statisticians say a large percentage of accidents take place in the kitchen. And husbands have to eat and pretend to enjoy them.

TO REENACT THE BATTLE OF YORKTOWN

Yorktown, Va., Sept. 25.- Secretary of the Interior Seaton, Secretary of the Army Brucker, and many of the Governors of the 13 original States will see a re-enactment of the Battle of Yorktown here, October 19, the 176th anniversary of Cornwallis' surrender to Washington.

Twenty-four units of historic American military commands from nine of the 13 States will take part, along with six ancient fife and drum corps, all from Connecticut. Like these units, a battalion of Second Army troops from Fort Knox, Ky., will participate, in period uniforms, in the re-enactment.

Seaton will speak on the battlefield maintained by the National Park Service, where the storming of the redoubts and surrender re-enactment will take place. General W. G. Wyman, commander of the Continental Army Command, Fort Monroe, and French Ambassador Herve Alphand will be honored guests.

Brucker in an earlier ceremony will dedicate the new 14-foot statue of "Liberty" sculptured by Oskar Hanson, of Charlottesville, and now in place on the Victory Monument erected in Yorktown in 1881-1884. The original statue was damaged by lightning in 1942 and has just been replaced.

The program is part of the eight-month Jamestown Festival, celebrating the 350 anniversary of the English settlement in the New World, at Jamestown in 1607, and the 175th anniversary of United States sovereignty, recognized by all nations under the provisional Treaty of Paris in 1782.

The Yorktown Day Association, which annually sponsors the Yorktown anniversary, and the Alexander Hamilton Bicentennial Commission, which is celebrating the 200th anniversary of Hamilton's birth, are joining in the event with the Festival and the Department of the Interior.

Virginia units appearing will be The Richmond Light Infantry Blues; Richmond Grays; Richmond Howitzers, all National Guard.

REVIVAL AT LIBERTY BAPTIST CHURCH

. . . Rev. George H. Lawrence

The Rev. George H. Lawrence, pastor of the Cool Springs Baptist Church, Ellerson, Virginia, will be the guest evangelist for a revival at the Liberty Baptist Church, beginning Sunday, October 6, and continuing through October 11.

Mr. Lawrence is a native of Isle of Wight County, Va. He received his education at the University of Richmond and the Union Theological Seminary. Most of his ministry has been in the Richmond area of our state. Mr. Lawrence comes to the local church from a wide field of experience, having served his denomination in many capacities. He is noted as an outstanding preacher.

Mr. E. Bruce Knapp will direct the music for the revival.

To bake well, cookie sheets and pans should be sturdy enough not to bend out of shape. A rolled-top edge gives sheet metal pans strength and rigidity. If a cookie sheet does not have a turned-up edge all around, it should be made of heavier metal to keep it rigid.

To restore sparkling whiteness to stained sinks, and at the same time to dingy dish towels, wipe the sinks with towels which have been soaked in clorox water.

Although easily darkened by alkalies in food and water, cooking utensils of aluminum respond readily to polishing with steel wool. If salty food is left standing in an aluminum utensil, it may cause the metal to pit.

For food fun at parties, make individual sundaes by putting ice cream in paper cups and topping with syrup. Cover with small squares of aluminum foil and freese. These sundaes are good for last minute parties.

Cut ice cream into squares and put between plain cookies or graham crackers; wrap and freeze. They make deliciously different ice cream sandwiches.

Or serve a scoop of your favorite ice cream on a hot doughnut; top with sauce.

To make an easy ice cream pie, line a refrigerator tray with graham cracker or cookie crumbs. Freeze ice cream in tray. At serving time, cut diagonally into pie-shaped wedges.
